

A black and white movie poster for the film 'Stalker'. The title 'STALKER' is centered in a bold, stylized font. Above the title, a bright, glowing light source is visible, with three small dark circles below it. In the foreground, a person in a dark, hooded coat stands with their arms outstretched, holding a horizontal bar. The background is a plain, light-colored wall.

STALKER

Athi is leaving India to Boston, Massachutes

He enjoys the flight

Athi noticed a girl in flight who has been travel-ling with him as co passenger

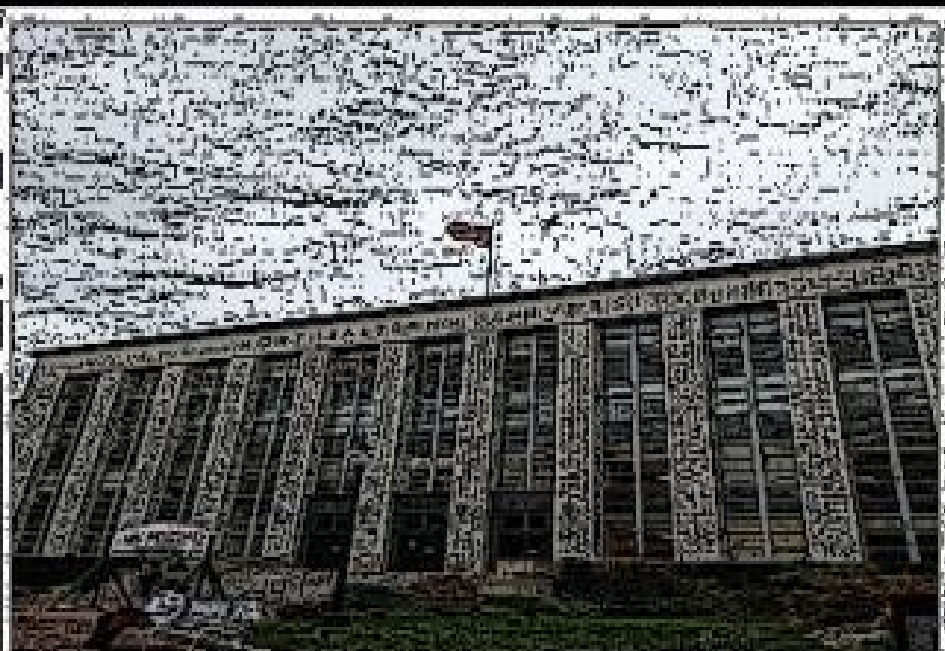

Athi lands in Boston and leaves to home

Athi's Roommates are waiting

There athi meets his roommates Nish and Vik

Athi nish vik wander around college

On their first day of entering Boston, they decide to explore boston around

Reflection Pool

Charles River

They went out for Dinner

Also, athi, nish and vik decides to call up Sub (a friend who came to USA a year before)

Since sub is not available in the day, he says to come to their house directly in evening

They were walking in park, someone is following

They then went for essential shopping

They were walking home but Athi thinks someone following

He finds nobody there but still feels mysterious

Then they reach their home in the late evening

They enter the apartment to notice their front door was open

They then take it casually and enters

Nish heads to the shower

He sees a dead body in his bath tub

Nish shouts and vik comes running

they all got panic and tries to call the police

Scared they try to leave the house but they can't open

Suddenly they hear some noise

Few Hours Back

A girl is entering their apartment through the window

Unexpectedly there is someone ringing the bell

Sub enters the house and saw her

Seeing no other option, she sttaded Sub

She drags the body to the bath tub

She cleans the knife

She tries to hide in the closet...

Back to the present

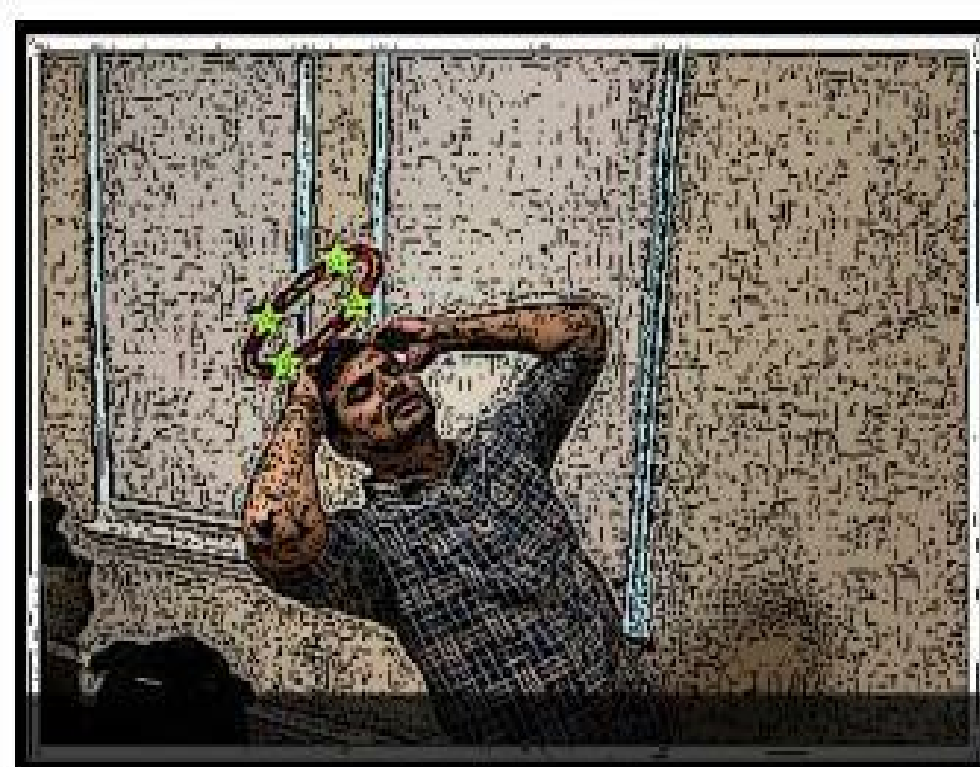

Vik opens the closet

He see the girl Hiding Inside

She hits him in the head

Vik get knocked down

She tried to hide Vik

Athi enters the room and shout for help

Seeing this Nish knocks her out with the pan

BOOM!

They tie and lock her

And again start calling the police

She tries to run away by pushing athi

She also pushes Nish and runs away

She runs into the woods

Athi and Nish starts chasing her

While chasing she slips and falls into the lake

They saw her Drowning

The police finishes off with all the protocols and scans the place

But she is no where to be found

Once the police leaves; they try to go to sleep

Athi sees through the window and he screams...

Vik and Nish come running to the room and ask hi what happened. He points towards the window

They see the girl standing outside the window... Directly staring at them...

To be continued